Introduction :

The Infosys Springboard initiative is a comprehensive digital learning platform that aims to empower millions of students, educators, and workers with essential digital skills. It is part of Infosys’s larger commitment to social responsibility, aiming to upskill 10 million people by 2025 under their ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) Vision 2030. Springboard offers over 8,000 free courses in various tech and professional skills, covering subjects like coding, AI, cybersecurity, and data science. The platform is particularly targeted at bridging the digital skills gap in communities by making high-quality educational resources accessible.

Infosys regularly hosts Springboard events, such as roadshows and summits, to introduce participants to the platform, demonstrate its learning capabilities, and provide hands-on guidance for creating accounts. These events feature presentations, live platform demos, masterclasses on current technology topics, and interactive quizzes to engage attendees. The events are open to the public and are free to attend, aiming to foster a learning environment for people of all backgrounds, from students to mid-career professionals. By providing these resources and engaging experiences, Infosys seeks to create a more inclusive, tech-ready workforce worldwide.

Nandan Nilekani, Chairman, Infosys, delivered the keynote address discussing India’s emergence as a global innovation hub. In his speech, Shaji Mathew, Group Head, Human Resource Development, Infosys discussed the importance of Human + AI integration, and urged everyone to be a lifelong learner. Thirumala Arohi, Executive Vice President and Global Head of Education, Training and Assessment, Infosys, showcased the platform's remarkable journey of driving digital transformation across India in collaboration with key stakeholders such as the government and educational institutions.

Pramod Verma, former architect of Aadhaar, UPI, and India Stack, and CTO, Ek Step Foundation, shared his insights on India's digital journey and its impact on society. Other dignitaries at the summit included Shri. Anandrao V Patil, Additional Secretary, Ministry of Education, Dr. M.C. Sudhakar, Hon'ble Minister for Higher Education, Government of Karnataka, Ms. Shilpa Nag, District Collector - Chamarajnagar, Sunil Kumar Dhareshwar, EVP, Finance at Infosys, and Sumit Virmani, EVP and Global Chief Marketing Officer at Infosys.

Event Objectives:

- ✓ Platform Demos: Live sessions on how to navigate Springboard, showcasing course features, resources, and account setup.
- ✓ Masterclasses on Current Tech Trends: Topics such as artificial intelligence and cybersecurity are explored in depth, offering hands-on learning experiences.
- ✓ Quizzes and Interactive Activities: To enhance engagement, events often incorporate live quizzes and offer participants fun incentives and "swag."
- ✓ Networking and Support: Events provide opportunities for participants to connect with Infosys instructors, peers, and industry professionals for ongoing support and mentorship.
- ✓ Provide Access to digital education tools for diverse learners.
- ✓ Offer Guidance on creating accounts and navigating the platform.
- ✓ Promote Interactive Learning through quizzes, hands-on sessions, and masterclasses.

Event description with pictures:

Infosys Springboard aims to democratize digital learning by offering free, high-quality courses that empower individuals to build critical tech and professional skills. This initiative targets underserved communities, focusing on making digital literacy accessible and helping bridge the global skills gap, ultimately preparing participants for meaningful career opportunities in today's digital economy.
